The News.

The army of the Potomac is again in motion, and we shall soon hear of the fierce onset of battle. Any hour may bring us Wis., was found hung to a tree, this mornstartling news.

Gubernatorial.

We published yesterday: the letter of Governor Lewis, declining to be considered a candidate for re-election to the highest office within the gift of the people of the State. This is in accordance with the promise made by Governor Lewis in his inaugural address, and this action on his part will surprise no one who has been conversant with the Governor's wishes. That he has proved himself to be a careful faithful, and vigilant officer, every unprejudiced man, of whatever political party readily admits. Wisconsin has been blessed with but very few as good Governors as the present incumbent, and the people of the State will long remember him with praise and gratitude for his just and econ omical administration of affairs, and his almost fatherly care of their sons who have gone forth to fight the battles of their country.

Who will be his successor in office, no one now can tell, although there will doubtless be a multiplicity of candidates for the position.

The Land Grant.

It seems, from an article published elsewhere, that the Railroad committee of the Assembly has agreed to disagree, and the prospect now is that the grant will not be disposed of at the present session. On lately gave them $1,200,000 each to clear yesterday, Mr. Cassoday, Chairman, re- out and never come to Paris again. ported back the several bills disposing of Cheap enough the land grant. Knowing, as I do, that you are a truly loyal man, and that you have sacrifieed your only son in endeavoring to put down this wicked rebellion, I would cheerfully recommend to all, this valuable book, hoping that your district, the town and city of Janesville, will not permit any other of equal size to outdo them in patronizing this work.

FROM GRANT'S ARMY. New York, March 30 .- The Herald's

correspondent says that the rebel loss in front of the 9th corps alone, on Saturday, was 5000.
Sheridan and his boys are off again and will soon be heard from.

The Times' special says information from the Army of the Potomac to-night, says the whole army was in motion Tuesday morning, and Gen. Grant and staff were to move in the afternoon.

New York, March 31.—The Tribune's Washington correspondent says an announcement having been made that the army of the Potomac had again assumed the offensive, it will not be improper to state that while troops of the army of the James on Monday and Tuesday crossed the James river and joined Grant in his new movement, Gen. Grant himself left City Point for the front Tuesday p. m. The telegraph between here and City tion of Richmond.

Point has not been working for five or six hours and if there has been any fighting it is unknown here. It is believed, however, that a heavy battle took place to day.

The Herald's Washington special says it now understood from the very highest and most reliable sources of information, that Secretary Seward was sent for by Mr. Lincoln to come to City Point for consultation, and arrangements are actively in progress for a military convention between Gens. Grant and Lee, supported on one side by Mr. Lincoln and Secretary Seward and on the other by Jeff. Davis and R. M. T. Hunter.

A grand movement of the army under ien. Grant was begun on Wednesday.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Washington, March 30.-The Chronicle of to-day says the rumor which is related by gossip of the town of a meeting of Fresident Lincoln, and Gauerals Grant. Sherman, Meade, Ord and Sheridan on poard the River Queen is undoubtedly correct, but we can assure our readers that the result of the conference is not publicly mown. The statement that Gen. Lee had asked for a conference with Gen. Grant, is entirely without foundation.

Commodore Chas. H. Bell has been ordered to command the navy yard in New York in place of Admiral Paulding, the order to take effect the 1st of May.

New York, March 30.—The Herald's Washington special says the President held a council of war at City Point attended by Gens. Grant, Sherman, Mende, Ord, Sheridan and others, and that immediately afterwards a general movement of the army was begun.
The Hersla also has reports from Wash.

It is understood that Sherman's plans for cutting off Gen. Johnston's army from all available sources of supply are complete and that Grant will compel Lee either to starve his troops in Richmond or come out and risk an engagement. In view of these matters well informed people in Washington believe that peace will be agreed upon between Grant and Lce. New York, March 30.—The Commer-cial's special says in official circles the immediate downfall of the rebellion is considered certain. The most recent advices of the War Department give assurance that neither Lee nor Johnson can retreat or offer battle without certain destruction of their armies. It is understood that there must be a cessation of fighting on both sides, and advices from Richmond state that every resort of diplomacy wil be used for a peace during the interview.

NUMBER 35.

New York, March 30.-A Goldsboro correspondent under date of the 25th says the rebels have about 12,000 cavalry under Wheeler and Hampton, in our front, Yesterday they hung three of our foragers within two miles of our outposts. Kilpatrick engaged part of their force yesterday, results not known.

The Herald's correspondent gives additional details of the battle at Bentonville. Our line at 2 p. m., when all the troops were in position was about two miles long. During the day the enemy made five grand attempts to piece this line at different attempts to pierce this line at different points. The first was made upon the points. The arst was made apon the point held by Cogswell's brigade and Mor-gan's second brigade. Hardee and Hoke led the charge. The rebels moved for-ward gallantly, firing but little, as if determined to crush our line by mere weight. They were received with a furious fire, but they howed their heads and came on, penetrating between Cogswell's and Mitch-ell, and got to the rear of Mitchell's brigade, but neither gave way. The fighting was terrific. Cogswell's men lay in the water firing on the rebels wherever they could be seen. The enemy passed around Mitchell's and struck Van Dever's and Pearing's brigade in the rear, pressing them so hard they had to jump their breatworks to repel their assaults.

A man was captured who gave his name as Gen. Hoke and was sent to the rear.

There was, however, so much confusion that it is now said this man, Hoke, did not afterwards report himself. In like manner charges were made on other parts, but our line never wavered any where. Finally the rebels massed for a last effort. This time they came up without their old familiar yell and marched steadily on Robinson and the five batteries. They were met with the most terrific fire ever witnessed, which made many of the gray mass raise their hands deprecatingly Their officers by great exertions and personal bravery brought them on in some order until they reached a point where Hawley's brigado brought to bear upon them a flank fire. This added to their misery, yet they stood it bravely and come on. The five batteries then opened at a distance of less than 700 yards, throwing canister and sharpnel into the wavering mass of the rebels. The discharges being as rapid for a time as the ticks of a lever watch, the flashes of the guns seemed : steady blaze. The enemy at last broke and fled in confusion from the field, and an hour later not a shot was heard along the line.

Legislative Correspondence, [From Our Regular Correspondent.]

Manison, March 30th, 1865. Editors Gazette: -Since my last, although there has not been much, there has been some important legislation. The Insurance bill after being amended in the Senate and eliciting considerable discus-sion passed this morning by a vote of 20 effort to adjust prices to the altered condi-ages to 12 noes. When it is returned to ayes to 12 noes. When it is returned to the House, probably to-morrow or next day, another discussion may be expected on concurring in the amendments, as the Domoracy in the House have been heartened in their appesition to the bill by the remarks made against it by Senator Webb. But the rope of discussion given them must be necessarily small, and the amendments will be concurred in by the same overwhelming vote that sustained the bill when first presented to the house.

In the Assembly yesterday afternoon, the Senate bill to facilitate the conversion of the State currency, and to provide for taking up certain State bonds, was concurred in by a vote of 48 nyes to 38 nees, and this, notwithstanding the bland Hadley made one of his most plausible and carnest speeches against it. The meck and persuasive smile that occasionally illumined his face, while delivering this bers voting against the bill, were solely affected to do so by the power of that smile, although the carnestness and venerable appearance of the speaker may have had something to do with the effect.

The Senate Lill increasing the rates of legal advertising to fifty cents for the first insertion and thirty-five cents for each subsequent insertion, was also concurred in. Thus has bare justice been awarded to the publishers of the State, but it has not been given without eliciting the usual hints of larceny and plunder which by some strange fatality, always attend any nction for rendering common justice to the industrous members of an indispensable craft.

The railroad committee reported this morning; a majority of the committee, as was expected, recommending the indefinite postponement of each of the bills before it. A minority report was submitted in favor of the Portage City bill. Mr. Cassoday submitted a special and claborate report in favor of Fond du Lac. Messrs. Davis and Vaughan presented a minority seport in favor of Fond du Lac and Milwankee. A resolution was adopted making the railroad bills the business of the afternoon sessions until all were acted on, and this afternoon was spent in committee of the whole on one of the bills, nearly two hours being occupied in reading and amending it. A general feeling increases that the land grant will not be acted on during this session and the slowness and indecision with which the bills are reviewed shows such a result of the business to be very probable. The legislators may be satisfied in being as unconcerned as most of them apparently are, on the disposition of this important grant, but their constituents will certainly require satisfactory explanations if they fail to dispose of the grant at this session, thus allowing it to become the main issue in the next State election. The noted railroad manager, Perry II. Smith, arrived here a day or two ago, and there is a rumor that he is endeavering to effect a compromise between the Portage City and Doty Island advocates, which will cause a decisive and most beneficial disposition of the grant. Palmer of Millwaukee, attends to the interests of that city with the same courteous sagacity that has characterized him during his stay here some weeks, and Mr. Smith's arrival, has not by any visible sign or manifestation, disturbed him in the least.

Business must be hurried up, as both Houses have voted to adjourn sine die on the 10th of April.

The bill providing for submitting the the special order for to-morrow, and it will undoubtedly pass, although the Democraey promise to fight it.

Although I am occasionally slow in corresponding, I make it my endeavor to be sure of all of account that stirs, and re-YANKEE THISTLE.

The Land Grant Bill.

It is expected the Railroad Committee in the Assembly will report on the Land Grant bills this afternoon.

It is understood that there is not a majority in favor of recommending either point designated by the act of Congress as the initial point of the road. A plurality favor Portage. The others are divided be-tween Fond du Lac and Doty's Island. The committee at its session last evening

-as we learn from our reporter, who had obtained a favorable position for overhearing its proceedings, up a fine—voted on motions to recommend the indefinite post-ponement of the several bills before them for disposing of the grant. The votes were as follows:

On Sawyer's bill-Fond du Lac: Ayes-Abrams, Barden, Z. G. Simmons, Church, Emmons and Taylor. Noes-De Witt Davis, Cassoday and

On the Doty's Island bill.

Ayes—De Witt Davis, Vaughan, Casso day, Taylor, Z. G. Simmons, Barden.

Nocs-Church, Abrams and Emmons. On Barden's bill-Portage City: Ayes—Church, Z. G. Simmons, DeWiit Davis, Emmons and Abrams, Nees—Barden, Gassoday, Vaughan and on Micheal similarity of du Lae, via the east bank of Lake Winnebags.

Ayes—Barden, Church, DeWas Davis, Vaughan, Abrams, Cassoday, Emmons and

From this it will be seen that a majority of the committee favor the indefinite postponement of all the bills before it.

The Current Fluctuations in Prices and Terrible Fire in Constantinople... One their Bearing on Credit.

[Fram the New York Economist.] The semi-panicky condition of all the markets, during the last few days, de-serves more than a passing notice. One serves more than a passing notice. whole mercantile community seems to nave been suddenly paralized. Confidence has forsaken every branch of trade; and among holders of merchaudise and produce there has been a disposition to turn goods into money at almost any price. In the previous panies of the war, the decline in prices has generally followed the ly, in this instauce, the decline in gold has, in a large measure, followed the fall of prices. This fact is obviously attributable to the fact of large amounts of gold being held by partics who had bought it very much above the recent rates, and, disposed to sell it at the reduced rates. Merchants and stock operators have proved more sagacious than the gold dealers, fate by a corresponding reduction in the prices of their goods. Merchants who have been conducting their business upon a conservative basis, have suffered much less from this fall in prices than would at first sight appear. It is true that they have realized for their goods much less than they have paid for them; but it is also true that the money they receive in payment is worth proportionally more; so that with the proceeds of the sales on which they appear to have lost so heavspeech, was a study for an artist; and I think that the two or three Union members the study for three union members as large a quantity of goods as they have sold. But those whose indebtedness exceeds the amount due to them must lose very heavithy; for the gain, connected with an appro-ciated currency, arising out of their bills the killed is It-receivable is not sufficient to compensate | Galata police. for their loss in paying on their bills payable a more valuable currency. Let us suppose a case. A has $100,000 worth of goods, bought when gold was at 225; he gave his note, at three months, and has to have it when gold is at 175; in the months. pay it when gold is at 175; in the mean-time he has sold the goods for which payment is now due with gold at 175. Another merchant, B, bought $100,000 worth of goods when gold was at 255, and has now to pay for them with gold at 175: but he sold his stock for cash immediately and bought more goods, and has available for meeting his payment the proceeds of such sale. Another merchant, C, bought $109,000 worth of goods when gold was at 225; paid ready money for them; and sold them on a note that falls due now, with gold at 175. What is the result in each of these cases? For the convenience of reckoning, we omit the consideration of profit charged on the goods, in each case. The account of A, who buys on credit and

> Dr. Bill payable...... Cr. Bill receivable..... In this case, the assets cover the liabili-ties; so that the depreciation of the currency is unattended by loss, all other things being equal. The result would be the same in the case of a merchant buying for each and selling for each, except that he would avoid the risk of bad debts. The account of B, who buys on credit and sells for each, would stand thus:

sells on the same terms, would stand thus:

For the sake of ease in illustrating the principle, we have not taken into account the fluctuations in the price of gold and the consequent changes in the prices of goods that might occur between the first purchase and the second purchase, made upon the proceeds of the sale of the goods first bought; though it is to be admitted that, in fact, such fluctuations would effect the result we have indicated. The case is not to be taken as illustrative of the most general course of those who buy on credit and sell for eash; but it, nevertheless, represents the case of a large number who, in these times, sell for cash, good assortment or goods bought on eredit, to enable them to Pianos, Melodians and American make other necessary cash purchases.

The account of C, who buys for c and sells on credit, would stand thus: Paid, $100,000, equal in gold, at 125 premium,

Due, $100,000, when gold is at 75 premium. ...57.143

.$12,622 Those cases show that the party who loses capital, during the decline in gold, is the one who buys on credit and sells for cash; and that the merchant who makes money by the change is the one who buys for eash and sells on credit. It must, however, be remembered that the latter party runs a heavy risk from bad debts; as the party to whom he sells are probably the class who, as we have shown, are conducting their business on a losing princiquestion of black men being allowed to ple. Upon the whole it is, perhaps, not vote as well as fight, to the voters of Wismaterial whether, in these fluctuating consin at the next State election, is made times, business is conducted upon credit or eash terms, provided that the same terms be adopted, both in buying and selling: but unquestionably there is most certain ruin in persistently buying on credit and selling for cash, when gold is rapidly

Hundred Lives Lost.

On the night of the 20th ultimo, a fearful calamity occurred at Galata, Constantinople. The Levant Herald says:

Shortly after eleven o'clock, a fire broke out in one of the wings of the Roman Catholic convent of St. Benoit, and the flames rapidly spread to the adjoining apartments, and thence to the thickly clus tering houses outside the convent enclose ure. Shortly after midnight a body of some sixty loloumbagees, with four engines had stationed, themselves, along the outside wall of the high stone building in the corner of the convent quadrangle, considering themselves sheltered by the wall from the flames within. The apparent safety of the wall had also collected on and around it several of the policemen and spectators. Suddenly, and without even a warning rack, the castern and southern walls of hoping that a turn in military affairs this lofty building toppled outwards, liter-might again put up the premium, were in-ally creating over the doomed crowd below like the curve of a breaking wave, and burying under their debris all the engines with their crews, and a large number of and, foreseeing an inevitable fall in pri-ces, as the result of the vapidly improving military situation, have anticipated their lows escaped. Almost simultaneously a small, densely inhabited house outside the convent limits, and, crushing through the roof, killed, it is said, eight of its inmates, who were endeavoring to rescue their effarits.

It was not till the flames had burned themselves out on all sides to the gaps made in their path by the pulling down of distant houses that the conflagration may be said to have been got under. This was about seven A. M. by which time, besides the damage done to the convent, in all, forty-two thousand houses and four shops had been destroyed The total number of victims of this calamity, is believed to exceed one hundred. Amongst the killed is Ibrahin Bey, the Chief of the

THE TRIBUNE FOR 1865. PROSPECTUS.

The military and naval successes of 1864, with the amplicious result of our Presidential contest, have lif-ted a heavy weight from the breasts of the Loyal Mil-ilions of our countrymen. It is now felt even by those who have been distrustful and faint-hearted, that the Union is to emerge triumphant from the deadly strife whereinto she was so wickedly precipitated by her as-sailants, and that Slavery, her relettlees foe, is to enwhereinto she was so wickedly precipitated by her assailants, and that Slavery, her releatiest foe, is to encounter the fate of Ilaman. The perils of a reign intervention and of western insurrection are safely passed; Abraham Lincoln, no longer assailable as the choice of a minority, holds the heim of State for four years longer; the rebellion, palpably weakened by its defeats and losses during the year now closing—with its credit so reduced that its purse-bearer officially declares that its Trusaury notes can only be exchanged for one at the rate of twenty-five for one, while its bonds command but six cents on the dollar—but awaits the blow which shall soon strike the sword from its purricidal hand and remit its master-spirits to the justice, or it may be to the elemency, of a sorely wronged and justily incensed but forbearing and magnanimous people. Such are the anspices which justify our faith that the year soon disponen will see the Stars and Stripes float unchallenged from every battlement in the Republic, and the perfect law of liberty for all immorable shedded in the Constitution of our Union.

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE, founded in 1841, will enter upon its twenty fourth year with quickened hopes and enlarged means of usefulness. Its principles need no re-statement; its aims are the diffusion of intelligence and the inculcation of a spirit of Freedom and Humanity. When this truth shall have been generally recognized and established as the basis of our institutions and polity, that injustice to the poorest, the weakest, the meat despised, is a fearful mistake—that no commentity of State can afford to wrong even its humblest member—then will our land basis once more in the calm smashine of peace and prosperity.

even its humblest member—then will our land bask once more in the calm sunabline of peace and prosperity.

THE TRIBUNE has for the last year been published with but small profit to its proprietors, when compared with the enormous labor and outlay devoted to its publication, solely because of the depreciation of our currency below the specie standard, compelling us to buy paper and other materials at a cost considerably above the full amount received from our subscribers. On our Weekly edition, the net loss has been many thousands of dollars; while our large receipts from advertising have been absorbed by the extraordinary expenses for Correspondence, Telegraphing, &c., devoived on us by the war. As we do not suppose our patrons desire that we should work for them at our own cost, and prefer not to be patronized by any who may desire it, we have some shat advanced for the ensuing year the prices of our Semi-Weekly and Weekly, as we have surready done with those of our Daily editions. This increase is parely mominal; there never before was a time when the farmers of our country could buy The Tribune for so little of their own products or labor as they can by the following expected that its superior advantages will make it the Great Popular Loan of the People. Less than $200,000 000 remain unsold, which will probaly be disposed of within the next 60 or 90 days, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscrip-

From Rev. G. W. Lawrence:

Mr. Dory—I confess I have been quite skeptical in regard to the utility of washing machines, until we gave yours a trial. Having tested it theroughly, we are fully prepard to say, unsolicited, that we regard it as a capital machine. The principle upon which it works is the true one—removing the dirt effectually without diguring the clothes in the slightest manner. My wite endorses it heartily as a labor-saving machine, and considers it truly a "Paragon." With "Doty's Paragon Clothes Washer." and the "Universal Clothes Wringer," washing day is no longer dreaded as in days of yore.

GENTLEMEN—I have had in use one of your Washing Machines since May last. We have tried other inventions, but they have invariably proved worthless, after a few weeks use. Yours is the only invention that has stood a saisfactory test in my faudity. It works admirably, and is a great labor saving machine; while in point of economy it has no equal. It has more than saved its cost already in the diminished wear of clothing, as compared with any other process of washing with which I am familiar. No family can well afford to be witheut one. Gentlemen; —Having stated it verbally to you, I have no healtation in writing the fact, that I experienced marked benefit from your Hoodand's German Bitters. Numerous remedies were recommended by friends, and some of them tested but without rollef. Your Hoodand's German Hitters were recommended by persons who had tried them, and whose favorable mention of the Bitters induced me also to try them. I must confess that I had an aversion to Patent Medicines, from the "thousand and one" quack "Bitters," whose only aim seems to be to paim off sweetened and drugged liquor upon the community, in a siy way; and the tendency of which, I fear, is to make many a contirmed drunkard. Upon learning that yours was really a medicinal preparation, I took it with happy effect. Its action not only upon the stomach, but upon the nervous system, was prompt and gratifying.
